

IS MY SITE SERVING WEBP IMAGES?

Step 1: Open your site in Chrome browser.

Step 2: Right-click on an image you converted and choose Open in new tab.

Step 3: Check the image extension (Make sure you have converted the image size and type before testing or else you may test unconverted images and think it did not work)

If in the Webp Conversion tab -> Enable Webp images you checked `Enabled` - replace .jpg with .webp, example image will be: `http://yoursite.com/img/demoimage.webp` (NOT RECOMMENDED) the image ending should be .webp like in the following image

If in the Webp Conversion tab -> Enable Webp images you checked `Enabled` - keep .jpg termination, serve .webp and change mime type to image/webp, example image will be: <http://yoursite.com/img/demoimage.jpg> but the format will be webp (RECOMMENDED)` replace the .jpg or .png extension of the image with .webp and see if the images opens, if you see the same image after changing the termination to .webp, that means the conversion was successful.

Advanced testing option

Open the site in chrome, press F12 -> go to the network tab opened and check the Type column, if you see at least one webp as a type that means it works, if other .jpg and .png images appear that means those images have not yet been converted
